Directions

-print the story of Sammy going shopping for Thanksgiving dinner from pages 1 -14. Either place in page protectors or laminate.

-print 2 copies of page 15 (pictures) one page can be laminated and cut up and velcroed in the middle of the basket. Lay all the items out in middle of the table and as the story is read let the child place the item on the basket. (I also have a small grocery basket that I bought at Target and we roll the basket around on the table to each student as the story is read and the child adds the appropriate grocery item

-the second copy of the pictures are used for an overlay for the student to request the correct item. When the item is put into the basket I asked each child if that was the correct item for a yes/no response.

-pages 16 -20 are various worksheets for thanksgiving

-copies of these pictures can be used as a word wall, where the teacher can hang the words on the wall and the student can match the picture to the word. If this is to difficult for your student let them match the picture to the picture.

-This is a great oppurnity to talk with the students about what they might eat for Thanksgiving. Have the parents send to school a list of what the child might be eating for Thanksgiving and who will be eating dinner with them. (Great oppurnity to make an overlay for home that the child might request more of a food item or responses to some social questions that might be asked him)

-Use the grocery store flyers to cut out food that they might like to eat. You can use a paper plate and let them glue the food and place their name and picture symbols along with the picture to hang in the room.

-Adding a page of picture used for an art activity to request items and a snack overlay that can be sent home.
How are you?
